

HUNS THROW ONE MILLION MEN INTO GIGANTIC BATTLE

ONE MILLION BOCHES NOW IN BATTLE

GERMANS NOW HAVE A MILLION
SOLDIERS TAKING ACTIVE PART IN GIGANTIC BATTLE BETWEEN SOISSONS AND RHEIMS.

MOTIVE NOT KNOWN

Military Experts Differ in Regard to
What Germans Will Attempt to Do—Many Claim That They Will Now Make Last Stand.

(By Associated Press.)

The Germans have thrown nearly a million men into the gigantic battle between Soissons and Rheims and have been viciously counter attacking all around the circular line that stretches from Soissons to the neighborhood of Rheims. Even this formidable force appears to have not made more than a dent or two in the allied front, while at various points progress for the allies slight but important is reported.

71 DIVISIONS IN ACTION

Regarding the strength of the German forces, unofficial advises state there are 71 Teuton divisions engaged in this struggle. The strength of a German division is about 13,500 on normal footing, so if all the units resisting the allies north of the Marne had been kept up and had there would be about 500 men trying to hold the line until the situation is relieved of these divisions there are 10 drawn from Crown Prince Ruprecht's army in the north. The German Crown Prince had in the neighborhood of 500,000 men between Rheims and Chateau Thierry, so the attack across the Marne began July 15. The number of divisions engaged in the battle would appear to indicate he has since that time drawn heavily on the army groups, it would also seem that this action on his part reflects the importance of this battle in the eyes of the German high command.

TANKS DRIVEN BACK.

Through the German counter blow the Americans were driven back from Vierges southwest of Soissons to Tardenois, while to the northwest of Fere the Americans have also been forced to Beugneux into which they had penetrated after passing through Grand Rozy Beuzeau. The situation on west side of Crise river about 15 miles south of Soissons has again been the scene of heavy fighting and the battle appears to have been general along the length of that point notably in the center wood, near where the front turns abruptly to the east.

On the other end of the battle line there has been sharp engagements, but reports credit the allies with making advances at Auvilly in the Ardennes valley west of the Rhine they have also forged ahead further down toward the bottom of the pocket at Villers sur Aisne Aug 10.

WILL MAKE STAND.

While the counter blow against the allied line is general and of great violence, it is not believed in London the enemy intends to make a real stand out of the Veste river. Paris on the other hand seems to believe the Germans may have fixed upon the present local position on their way as the last stand upon which they will turn to buy. There have been patrols operating along the British front. Little has been reported to amplify the Copenhagen dispatch to the effect Turkey and Germany have broken off relations. America advised however, indicated they intend to pursue an aggressive policy in the Caucasus region. The aid supposedly set aside for German exploitation may now carry a measure of conviction of the rumor the quadruple alliance has broken over the peace treaty with Russia and Romania.

HAVE NO REST.

American troops in the Soissons-Rheims sector have been fighting virtually without cessation along their whole line for the last twenty-four hours. The German defense has suffered and the Americans have made very little progress up to noon today. Another German thrust drove the French out of Beugneux near Grand Rosy, northeast of Fere en Brie. This town however, was captured from the enemy.

The Americans advance.

With Americans on Aisne-Marne front under fire from the enemy only slightly less than that of yesterday the Americans on the front north of the Ourcq held to their position this forenoon and even advanced a little toward the road from Sargines to Sergy.

Repeated efforts by the enemy to dislodge the Americans were futile so the Americans left, the French are moving forward to the right. The lines are holding steadily. The guards that were brought in by the Germans to attack the Americans yesterday appear today to have been withdrawn by the German command. The fighting is the heaviest experienced by the Americans. Their conduct is winning the praise of the French observers.

CROSS RIVER

With American Army on Aisne-Marne Front.—The crossing of the Marne river was affected by the Americans Sunday, in fact of the greatest difficulty, the Germans having destroyed the bridge heads, placed their artillery and machine guns in advantageous position to resist the attempt of a passage.

SHELL TROOPS

The Franco-American forces had planned to cross the Ourcq before day out on Sunday, but the Germans' heavy artillery shelled the slope leading to the river under fire which continued all night. The Americans re-

Socialists in France Demand That Government Set Forth Peace Terms

Higher wages and shorter hours are reported to be the cause.

peakedly started to advance during the night, but were held back by the fire of American machine guns and heavy pieces. During one of the lulls in German firing, Captain Allen Huff, of Omaha, Nebraska, worked his way up to the center of a field, and shot up to the Oureq. Just then the Germans resumed their fire in full force.

Immediately Huff and his men dug in and held on where they were until daylight.

Artillery Quieted

Meanwhile the German artillery had been quiet, except that by the heavier artillery of the allies carrying on counter battery work. Choosing an opportune moment, Huff's men dashed to the river, jumped in with a splash and waded across, cheering as they went.

CORPORAL FIRST TO CROSS

Corporal Chris Bartholomew, Sioux City, was among the first of the first waves to cross the river. They immediately went after the machine gun on the hill, on the north bank of the Ourcq. The fire which they opened on the enemy nest at that point was so intense that the Germans raised white flag. Anticipating a big bag of prisoners, the Americans rushed up to the gun and opened upon again by the enemy machine guns as they approached. Then the Americans let loose with the full weight of their fire against the Germans, who again raised the white flag. Twelve Germans were killed and nine captured in this operation.

EQUAL TO TASK.

Paris.—American soldiers in the fight on the Marne salient showed themselves equal to the best French troops, declared Andre Tardieu, French high commissioner to the United States, at dinner last night at the American university station. Representatives of many American universities and colleges were present.

Heavy Fighting.

London.—There has been heavy fighting near Buzancy, five miles south of Soissons, and also in Plessier wood, about five miles further south. This latter locality forty-five prisoners were taken, belonging to three divisions of the enemy, engaged in the Marne salient. There are seventy such divisions, of which ten belong to the northern army of Crown Prince Ruprecht of Bavaria. The enemy with withdrawal is reported as orderly and military opinion in London discounts the possibility of rounding up any Germans in the retreat.

(By Associated Press.)

Chicago, July 30.—Otto Breitkreutz, widely known as "Big Otto," the animal trainer, and his business associate, August Kunz, director of the "horse meat syndicate," will be placed on trial here on charges of using the trial to defraud.

The men were brought here after having been trailed by postoffice inspectors and arrested on opposite sides of the continent.

"Horse meat at 10 cents a pound will win the war," was the motto of the syndicate, according to authorities, who declare that the trial will develop unusual interest and that men prominent in business and politics here will be called upon to testify.

Breitkreutz, formerly promoter of the "Big Otto Mine," took as a partner in the get-rich quick syndicate Frank Kunz, Chicago butcher, and the Kunz Packing company was formed, capitalized at a million dollars.

Kunz advised however, indicate they intend to pursue an aggressive policy in the Caucasus region.

The syndicate set aside for German exploitation may now carry a measure of conviction of the rumor the quadruple alliance has broken over the peace treaty with Russia and Romania.

COUNCIL ORDERS HOSPITAL MOVED

CITY FATHERS REFUSE TO RE-SCIND ORDER MOVING DETENTION HOSPITAL, DESPITE STRENUEOUS OBJECTIONS BY THIRD WARD RESIDENTS.

WANT LABOR BUREAU

Vote to Establish Federal Labor Bureau—Matter Left in Hands of Finance Committee.

After several spirited arguments between Alderman Dulin and Welsh, and Alderman Cronin and Horn, the detention hospital question was finally settled at the council meeting last evening and will be moved to its new location.

About fifteen third ward property owners were present at the meeting and through their attorney, Dougherty they presented their arguments against the moving of the structure. It was the liveliest meeting that has been held by the new council and several times a near break between the pleasant relations of the members was averted. There were several outbreaks by the property-owners, also when some of the aldermen jumped to their aid by championing their cause.

When the council opened the fun began. After the reading of the petitions Alderman Horn moved that they be accepted. The motion was accepted.

Major Valentine then addressed the council and stated that E. A. Witte of the State Industrial Commission wished to add to the council in regard to the establishing of a Federal Labor Bureau in this city.

Mr. Witte in opening his address told of the imperative need of labor by the government and started those present when he stated that the war was at its height and contractors were over one million hours short and that this must be raised during the next thirty days. He told of the many reasons for the establishing of these labor bureaus and also spoke of the benefits derived by the cities which have the offices.

He spoke in detail of the work accomplished and explained to the council that the federal government required that the city furnish office and maintenance of same, including light heat, telephone and the cost of furnishings to same. He further explained that the salary of the man in charge was paid by the government.

He closed his address by telling the council that the question was of vital importance and should be handled as quickly as possible.

Immediately following Mr. Witte's talk the question of the cost of such a bureau was properly taken up and it was the consensus of opinion of the aldermen that the establishment of such a bureau would be beneficial to the city's interests. In view of this fact so there would be no possible delay the council voted to place the matters in the hands of the finance committee of the council composed of Alderman Welsh, Jones and Ransom and with full power to act.

This committee at once took the matter with Mr. Witte and as a result the establishment of the bureau was immediately decided upon and it will be opened as soon as first to comply with the new federal law. Mr. Witte stated he was more than gratified at the prompt action of the council and mayor and complimented them upon the fact. He returned to Madison last evening.

City Clerk James B. Worthington then read a communication from the Janesville chamber of commerce in regard to the proposed or package in the city and in the discussion it developed that the city already had a package ordinance, but it also developed that probably ninety-five per cent of the citizens do nothing of it.

Another communication was read in regard to the suspending of a municipal service fee in this city. Mayor Valentine appointed Alderman Dulin and Horn as a special committee to look after the matter.

Alderman Lawrence Cronin then addressed the council and stated that W. H. Dougherty was present on behalf of the property-owners of the third ward and he was asked to address the council in regard to the proposed moving of the detention hospital.

Mr. Dougherty then presented his arguments against the moving of the hospital. He spoke of the inadvisability of moving the same and also the great loss to property-owners which would result.

When Mr. Dougherty had finished, Alderman Welsh jumped to his feet and presented in no uncertain tones the council's side of the argument. He pointed out where in place of being a detriment to the property-owners it would be a benefit, and rhetorically stated that the few who would openly oppose any move other than that of moving the hospital as it was intended. He stated that in his opinion it was not a matter of the hospital being dangerous to anyone's health, but the property-owners realized that the street would have to be improved and they were thinking of their pocketbooks.

Alderman Dulin also spoke on the subject and stated that he wanted everybody to do anything to anyone to himself and no care to have done to himself, and that it was his belief that the moving of the hospital was not any sufficient reason for a complaint and that he would also oppose any other move.

Alderman Cronin then addressed the council and immediately started to place all blame for the contemplated move on Alderman Welsh. Mr. Cronin stated that he never favored the moving despite the fact that he introduced the ordinance and that he also voted for the movement of the same. He explained that he did so at the insistence of Mr. Welsh whom he claimed dictated the ordinance. Mr. Fisher wrote it.

Alderman Horn then decided to jump to the property owners' cause and he also spoke to the council against the moving of the same. He claims that it was understood that nothing would be done to the property owners had been interviewed. He was shown the minutes of previous meetings and read the record of which he voted, instructing the city attorney to complete the contract with the Jansenville Sand and Gravel company.

Alderman Welsh again addressed the council and clearly outlined his part in the movement. He stated that:

the city attorney had been instructed to carry out the contract and that Mr. Fisher had already fulfilled his part and had made a deposit with the city. He also stated that the laws were such that the city could not stop from moving the hospital to its present site, but should the council decide to purchase other land for a detention hospital, that they could be stopped from building.

Alderman Cronin then arose and in decided tones told the council that he wanted it clearly understood that he opposed the measure and would continue to oppose it. Alderman Ensign Ransom, also from the third ward, took no active part in the discussion.

Alderman Badger then moved that the council rescind the order to the city attorney to carry out the contract. The vote was taken and the motion was lost by the following vote: Alderman Cronin, Horn, Jones, Alderman, Fautz, Ransom, True and Welsh—no.

Thus ended the detention hospital question for the time being, although it was intimated last evening that the property-owners would start suit against the city.

The reports of the visiting nurse and the city seal of weights and measures were accepted and placed on file. On motion of Alderman Horn the council took a ten minute recess at 9:45 o'clock.

After the recess a petition was presented from the Standard Oil company for permission to erect an oiling station in this city. The petition was denied. Alderman Welsh of the finance committee moved that the state list and bills be accepted.

Alderman Arthur Jones of the judiciary committee reported favorably on the bonds of Cohen Bros. and George and Clemmons, and they were accepted. Alderman Ransom moved that the monthly report of the chief of police be accepted.

Alderman Welsh then told the council about two ordinances which were to be read in regard to the stamping out of beer in this city. He stated that the differences were made at the investigation of Captain Champion.

Alderman Ransom presented a petition from Frank Hayes, asking for permission to build a coal hole in front of the millinery store in the Hayes block. Permission was granted him.

Alderman Ransom moved that the mayor be empowered to appoint as many special police as was needed during the fair. The motion was carried.

Alderman Dulin moved that ordinance No. 358, regarding the disposal of garbage, be given publicity. The motion was accepted. Alderman also read a communication from the Janesville business men's association in which they placed their support to the city council in the way of stamping out the sale of liquor to minors and men in the service of the United States. The communication was accepted.

Alderman Ransom moved that the ordinance be passed by the health officer, and plumbing inspector visited the alleys of this city for the purpose of making a report in regard to cleaning them up. The motion was accepted.

Alderman Horn introduced a resolution that the council purchase a acre of land on the outskirts of the city to be held for the purpose of erecting a new controversial hospital at some future date. The resolution was adopted.

Alderman Badger moved that the Chicago and Northwestern railroad be compelled to build a sidewalk in front of the property on North High street between Smith and Bailey addition. The motion was carried.

City Attorney Cunningham read two ordinances which were opened at the request of the chief of police to assist the police in stamping out vice in this city. The first ordinance was in regard to flinging on the streets of liquor to any man in the service of the United States army or navy. The ordinances were given to the service of the United States army or navy.

Alderman Jones moved that the council instruct the chief of police to have the traffic lane and the sidewalk cleaned up.

Alderman Jones then addressed the council in regard to the inadequacy of the police force on Saturday night when the crowds down town are large and requested that Mayor Valentine appoint a special patrol to assist in the handling of the crowds. Mayor Valentine appointed Night Watchman Al Smith.

On motion of Alderman Dulin the council adjourned.

Alderman Horn introduced a resolution that the council purchase a acre of land on the outskirts of the city to be held for the purpose of erecting a new controversial hospital at some future date. The resolution was adopted.

Alderman Badger moved that the council rescind the order to the city attorney to carry out the contract. The vote was taken and the motion was lost by the following vote: Alderman Cronin, Horn, Jones, Alderman, Fautz, Ransom, True and Welsh—no.

Thus ended the detention hospital question for the time being, although it was intimated last evening that the property-owners would start suit against the city.

The reports of the visiting nurse and the city seal of weights and measures were accepted and placed on file. On motion of Alderman Horn the council took a ten minute recess at 9:45 o'clock.

After the recess a petition was presented from the Standard Oil company for permission to erect an oiling station in this city. The petition was denied. Alderman Welsh of the finance committee moved that the state list and bills be accepted.

Alderman Arthur Jones of the judiciary committee reported favorably on the bonds of Cohen Bros. and George and Clemmons, and they were accepted. Alderman Ransom moved that the monthly report of the chief of police be accepted.

OSTEOPATHY.

With the demand for additional surgeons and medical attendants upon the various fighting fronts, the recognition of osteopathy by the governments of Europe as on a par with the regular M. D., and essential to their army work should do much to break down the hitherto impregnable barrier that the medical profession has raised against this school of healing.

The All-Wisconsin Sentinel recently printed the following editorial that is well worth considering now when this question is under discussion.

"American osteopathic physicians have shown a commendable desire to serve the country in the war by enlisting for service in the army and navy medical department.

"Under a strict and perhaps arbitrary construction of a law requiring that such applicants shall be 'graduates of reputable schools of medicine,' the applications of the osteopathic physicians have uniformly been refused.

"The test of such schooling is held to be the holding of the degree of M. D.

"Such refusal seems to brand the entire school of osteopathic physicians as men of imperfect medical education and to relegate this entire class of, in many cases, reputable and scientific specializing practitioners to the status of quackery.

"The orthodox snuff M. D. is treated as a universal test of medical knowledge, and the lack of it as the sure index of medical ignorance.

"In a general way that rule may be sound enough. But there are exceptions both ways.

"M. D.'s have been known to the profession whose medical incapacity was abysmal, owing to the laxity with which in this our commercializing age the degree has sometimes been conferred; we have all heard of 'diploma factories' (now, thanks to the effort of conscientious medical men and societies, largely done away with) where silk purses in the form of accredited M. D.'s were turned out in droves with amazing rapidity and duly licensed to denounce the insides and nerve the anatomy of the innocent public.

"And the exceptions the other way are proved by the fact that a number of osteopathic physicians have recently presented themselves for the examinations of the government medical examining board and passed most creditably, in spite of the fact that they were not entitled to append the authentic M. D. to their otherwise highly respectable name.

"But they were rejected nevertheless.

"Their patriotic offer to serve for the period of the war without cost was turned down, although the government has been complaining of a shortage of doctors.

"Now that seems to imply a certain narrow intolerance and inhospitality to new ideas which has been anything but conducive to progress in the world and in this case indicates more regard for the letter of professional orthodoxy than for the interest of the troops.

"We must infer that from the fact that some of these osteopathic specialists came through the examination of the medical board more creditably than some of the gentlemen with the degree of M. D.

"Nevertheless the former were rejected. Which goes to show that even if a good rule should be elastic enough to admit of some sensible exceptions.

"In view of this rather arbitrary and artificial inability for patriotic service the osteopathic association has introduced a bill in congress to remedy the condition.

"Want chiefly recommends the bill to us is that it provides that osteopathic physicians who pass the test of medical examination by the government board shall be qualified for enrollment in the medical department.

"The association asks for its members only equality of opportunity to prove their professional fitness for the service; that the bare lack of the M. D. to their name shall not operate as an absolute bar, proof of professional fitness to the contrary notwithstanding.

"This is not a subject for laymen to dogmatize about. Our bill seems in our humble judgment to call for fair and liberal consideration, not only by congress but by the medical faculty.

"The service needs doctors; and if this class of doctors can prove their competency to the satisfaction of an exacting medical board, why deny them the patriotic opportunity to serve and deprive the army and navy of their services?

"The request of the association is strongly supported by Col. Roosevelt, who concludes his plan as follows:

"I write on this subject with knowledge. Two of the members of my family have been treated with great profit to themselves for years by osteopathic physicians. One of these is now with our army in France. It would be to his great advantage, if he could have occasional osteopathic treatments, and I am genuinely concerned that he is unable to get them.

To give osteopathic physicians the chance to serve the army in the country as you desire would be a very real benefit.

"The organized profession does well to guard the public narrowly against quackery and shallow empiricism. But so liberal a professional should likewise guard itself against illiberalism."

THAT BRIDGE.

Why not have a vote on the question of voting on the construction of a new bridge at Jackson street come off at the September primaries? It is an essential question and should be settled. It has in fact been delayed too long. Is there any legal objection to its being voted on when we take up state and federal and county matters? If not, why not save the expense of a special election and have it done with now? We need the bridge and will need it more as the days go on, so why delay action?

TUBER ALLES!
You will still find some residents of Rock county who beneath their breath and among close friends drink to the toast, "Uber Alles!" even though it be in water or three per cent beer. Why not have enacted the law North Dakota has set forth that the language of an alien enemy can not be spoken over a telephone within its limits or spoken in public by more than two citizens. It might help some. Proprietors of Thirds Parlors could aid this by seeking to work a public good and instead of looking for the nimble nickels could prohibit the conversation in an alien enemy's tongue in their places of business. It would not be permitted to talk English in Germany, why talk German in America? Answer that you pro-pacifists! Answer it and condemn yourself, as it were, by your own words of being against the government that feeds you.

THE TURK.

If the news is true that the "Sick Man of Europe" has decided to formally break with his ally, the "Beast of Berlin," it is the first step toward the end of the great war. True, it may be only a step, but if correct it will mean the opening of the Dardanelles to ships of all nations, the release of some million odd men now employed in attending to the present needs of Turkey, and permitting the allies to help terminate the war. The news seems too good to be true, but the old saying, "When thieves fall out the truth will win" might be applied. Here's hoping it is true!

THE RIGHT SPIRIT.

The action of the council in taking such prompt action in establishing a federal labor bureau in Janesville is to be commended. It did not take a long discussion of affairs, a tireless wrangle or useless argument, but prompt action, just a few questions as to cost and the deed was done, and the representative of the State Industrial Commission returned to Madison last evening more than pleased that Janesville was the first city in the state to respond to the call of the government without a moment's delay.

Some of the men sent to the National army on the last call have returned home. They have been returned for various reasons over which they had no control. It is in justice to these men they be given the same reception that the men who are actually retained in service. They have offered themselves and through not a bit of fault of their own they have been held in reserve, perhaps for other work than actual fighting.

The council has long sessions these days. There are many matters that come up to disturb the regular routine. However the men who are representing the various wards are doing the best they can to give the city a good government and the citizens should back them up. The majority wished the change and the majority always rules.

The way they are launching ships these days one would expect that our soldiers were to march to Europe on a bridge of boats. However, when the time comes for these vessels to be put into peaceful trade routes the United States will have become one of the first marine powers of the world and the stars and stripes will fly from more mast heads than any other nation can boast of.

It took a long while to persuade the allies Japan should enter Siberia, but if those little fighting men from Nippon had made the advance a year ago there might be a different story told of Russia and the demoralization of the once great empire.

It would appear as though Janesville is a mecca for the disciples of the great God Bauchus these Saturday nights. One hardic realizes how many followers this little demon god of the Greeks really had, until he counts the autos from out of town lined up on the street curbs.

CONGRESSMAN SHERLEY.

Congressman Sherley of Kentucky, ranking member of the house appropriations committee, succeeded Fitzgerald as chairman of that committee following the latter's resignation from Congress.

Like Fitzgerald, Sherley is a comparatively young man, having not yet reached his 45th birthday, but with 15 years continuous service in the house to his credit. His name, Swager, is more often rendered Swaggar, however, especially for so long a time for the general public to learn that it is pronounced Swaggar.

It had happened to please his family line to please the congressman from the Tenth district of Kentucky.

He is one of the most modest members of the house, one of the most moderate in manner and speech. He looks even younger than he is, and when addressing the house gives the impression of deliberate carelessness, in which there is a quality of kindness.

He is tall and slender, with smooth face, hair neither light nor dark, and worn with a long cut, rather than close. His habit of dress is the usual attire of the business man who is too occupied with affairs to indulge in any preference.

Mr. Sherley is called the watchdog of the treasury. Now, one can readily see the fitness of that as applied to Fitzgerald, the former chairman. He was argumentative, witty, sarcastic, with tongue that was sharp, if not brutal.

A. C. PRESTON CALLED INTO THE SERVICE

Boys' Secretary Of Y. M. C. A. Leaves For Service In Naval Reserve On Monday—New Secretary Appointed.

A. C. Preston, boys' secretary of the local Y. M. C. A., has received his call to the naval reserve and will report for duty next Monday at the municipal pier in Chicago. He entered the naval reserve in June and has since been awaiting his call to active service.

Mr. Preston has met with great success in his year's work as boys' secretary of the Y. M. C. A. here. Although connected with the local "Y" for only a year, he started many movements to interest boys in all branches of the organization and achieved remarkable results. His organization of a High school "Y" club attracted the attention and commendation of Y. M. C. A. secretaries all over the state. Mr. Preston is at present attending the Phantom lake camp with eighteen young charges, but will return here to leave for Chicago on Monday.

Preston's position as boys' secretary will be filled by A. S. Phelps, a Y. M. C. A. worker from Downings Grove, Ill., who was recently appointed by the local board of directors.

Mr. Phelps is at present at the Phantom lake camp, but will not enter in his active duties here until the first of September. He comes highly recommended with fifteen years of successful Y. M. C. A. work to speak for his record, and local officials are elated to have secured him for the position of boys' secretary.

Demonstration of Cottage Cheese Uses Tomorrow Afternoon

An expert who is working under the direction of the department of agriculture is in the city and will give a demonstration on the practical use of cottage cheese, to the women of the county. In the science room at the high school on Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The local committee, who have charge of this affair, are: An arrangement, Mrs. Johnson, Mount; Follow Work, Miss Sybil Richardson; Publicity, Mrs. Helms; Hotels and Restaurants, Mrs. Granger; General Cooperation, Mrs. S. M. Smith. Miss Joann Hayes is in general charge and Mrs. Arthur Harris is also co-operating as local chairman of food conservation. The lady who is to do the demonstrating is Mrs. Hatch of Green Bay, who is an expert along these lines, and has been drafted by the government for this work. Her husband is an officer in service abroad, and she is doing this work to help in food conservation.

She considers that although the farm woman will be interested in knowing new ways of using cottage cheese, the city woman, also who wishes to economize, will be glad to know of this cheap substitute for meat. She shows how to use the product in cream soups, in a baked loaf, in salad dressing, and many other ways.

TY COBB CONTINUES TO LEAD LEAGUE

(AP ASSOCIATED PRESS)

Chicago, July 30.—Ty Cobb, Detroit, continued to lead American league batters during the past week. He played in but four games from July 17 to the following Wednesday. Last Wednesday is included in the averages released today. Although Ty dropped four points he still far in the lead. Cobb hitting with 17 points of the 400 marks which he is capable of reaching before the season closes. The two-footed Detroit outfielder failed to register a run for his club during the week but his mark of .60 was five better than Harry Hooper of Boston, who is the runner-up in the run scoring department. Burns of Philadelphia, the Georgian's closest rival for hitting honors, is 40 points behind Cobb, with Sisler in third place, 54 points behind the leader.

There was little change last week among the leading batters. Ray Dernier, St. Louis, made the jump from fourteenth place to fourth. His mark last week was .392 and this week's figure is .392.

Burns, Philadelphia, continued to lead in total bases with 159. He has made thirteen doubles, nine triples and five home runs. "Babe" Ruth, Boston, has played in five games since the last averages were released, but has failed to chalk up any more home runs. His eleven, however, remain high. He stretches out his hits to trips and one tied with Cobb for three batters, each has made ten. Sam, Boston, added a quartette of sacrifices to his string and leads that department with twenty-eight. Sisler failed to steal any more bases and his mark of thirty-two is high, although Bobby Roth, Cleveland, is giving him a close run and is not two behind.

TENER'S DECISION MAY KILL WORLD SERIES

(AP INTERNATIONAL NEWS)

New York, July 30.—It appears that the National League is about to do something in support of Gov. John N. Tillman, president in his bid to keep the American League. Instead of talking about what should be done in the case and publicly declaring themselves either opposed to or for the man who has done so much for the other major league, the National magnates are holding their peace and making no oral lay.

George Tener, manager of the Boston club, is the only man connected with himself in any terms of certainty regarding the Perry controversy. As Tener is the man in the National league principally interested in the discussion, his words were quickly gobblled up. He declared himself in favor of a strong stand against Sam, Boston, to show him where he stood.

As a matter of fact, Johnson is scarcely as much to blame as Connie Mack, for without Mack's action in carrying the case to the courts the dead of President Tener would not have shown its head. Johnson, however, embodied himself in an effort to state in a message that the American League would not under any consideration consent to the removal of players from the Athletics, and also would, after the decision of the commission, express his own opinion—that the decision was unjust.

Many things can happen as a result of the decision of the Tener commission to do something which involves the American League. As the national agreement provides for the procedure of the National League to sit as a member of the body which governs baseball, his action in this case is tantamount to his resignation from the commission. Also it may postpone playing of the world's series for weeks which would then basal classic provide time for the national commission shall make all rules and shall preside over the games.

Johnie Paulette, who was a Giant recruit back in 1911, has found the road to success a hard and rocky one, yet by applying himself diligently to his work and taking setbacks which came his way without a murmur he seems to have accomplished his goal. St. Louis is one of the few stars of the St. Louis National league club and Jack Hendricks is one of the best all-around playing he has ever seen.

Paulette began his baseball career as a catcher on the University of Arkansas team in 1910 and received a trial with the Giants. At the time Johnie Graw was not in need of a catcher, as Uncle Meyer was then at the top of his form so he converted Paulette into a first baseman. The youngster was of course lacking in experience, but McFarlan kept him until July of the following season, when he sent him to Mobile. There Paulette remained until the close of the season of 1913, when he was sold to the Cleveland club.

Once more given a chance to make good in the big show, Paulette again failed to find a regular berth, as Doc Johnston was at the time covering initial sack for the Indians so the youngster was sent to the Cleveland Association club of the American Association. A month later he was shifted to Nashville and stayed there until near the end of the 1915 campaign, when he was purchased by the St. Louis Browns. Paulette reported to Branch Rickey, who was then managing the Browns, immediately, stuck until the

There always seems to be a little curiosity just a little as to whether there are such people existing as a Mr. Marplesford or Mr. Theobald or a Mr. Margueriteclark. And if such lucky men do exist there is a great deal of enigma about what they look like and whether they are living happily with their famous wives.

The expected passing of major league baseball as a result of the reinforcement of the "work and fight" order doesn't mean that racing will similarly crimp. She contributes the profit of the book to the Red Cross.

The great naval raid of April 23 on Zeebrugge has been "reconstructed" for the screen.

Latest reports from the west coast are to the effect that William S. Hart will not leave the Aircraft field for another year at least. Comes also denial of his engagement to marry. He is scheduled under the new arrangement to make eight pictures during the coming year.

For the first time in her screen career Elsie Ferguson will appear as a cowgirl in her latest release, "Hearts of the Wild," imported from Sir Gilbert Parker's "Pleasure of the Plain." INCREASE IN NUMBER OF LICENSES ISSUED Madison, July 30.—Over 200,000 automobile licenses will be issued in the year of 1918. This includes passenger motor vehicles and motor trucks, but not dealers' licenses or motorcycle.

This statement is based on the licenses issued up to and including the end of June, the close of the fiscal year, in the secretary of state's office.

In the first six months of 1917, to July 1, 140,000 automobile and motor truck licenses were issued.

In the first six months of this year a total of 182,700 automobile and motor truck licenses were issued—177,000 automobile and 5,700 motor truck.

This means an increase of 42,700 motor vehicles in the first six months of 1918 over 1917, or thirty per cent.

On the basis of $500 per car, it further means that after putting millions into Liberty bonds, thrift stamps, Red Cross funds, etc., over $10,000 was spent on motor vehicles. At the total of automobile and motor truck licenses issued during the entire year 1917 was $6,500, if the increase for the ensuing six months keeps up at the same rate, 30 per cent, it will mean 23,850 automobile and motor trucks on Jan. 1, 1919. It can be safely predicted that the total will be over 200,000 allowing for falling off in the next six months. The statement is borne out by the fact that 24,500 licenses were issued between July 1 and Dec. 31, last year. In the same number is issued during the balance of the year it means 207,200 cars.

So when I thought the shells were coming pretty thick again I got into a shell hole and it was the same one I had left not long before. The dead gavies was there just as I had left him.

The wounded one was bleeding all over, and my clothes were just soaked with blood from the three men, but most of all from him. There was some of my own blood on me, too, for when I was knocked down by the shell my nose bled and kept bleeding for a long time, but, of course, that was nothing compared to the bleeding of the others.

The worst of all was that he kept groaning for water, and it made me thirsty than I had been, even. But there was not a drop of water anywhere and I knew there was no use searching any bodies for flasks. So we just had to stick it out. Pretty soon the wounded man quit groaning and was quiet, and I knew he was going to die. It made me mad to think that I had not been of any use in carrying these two men around, but if I had gone on with either of them it would have been just the same—they would have died and probably I would have got it, too. When I figured it out this way I quit worrying about it, only I wished the fire would be up.

So the other man died, and there were two of them in the hole. I read the numbers on their identification disks when shells burst near enough so that I could see them, and after a while got back to our lines and rolled in. I could not remember the numbers or the names by that time, but a working party got them, along with others, so it was all right.

My clothes were a mess, as I have said, and I was so thirsty I thought I could sleep for a week, but I could not stand it in my clothes any longer. It was absolutely against regulations, but I took off all my clothes—the blood had soaked into the skin—and wrapped myself in nothing but air and went right to sleep. I did not sleep very well, but woke up every once in a while and thought I was in the hole again.

During the night they brought up water, but I was asleep and did not know it. They did not wake me, but two men saved by share, though usually in a case like that it was everybody for himself and let the last man go dry. You could not blame them, either, so I thought it was pretty decent of these two to save my share for me. I believe they must have had a hard time keeping the others off of it, to say nothing of themselves, for there really was not more than enough for one good drink all around. It tasted better than anything I have ever drunk, to dry for 24 hours in the hottest weather you can find, do a night's work like that, and come to in the morning with a tin cup full of muddy water being handed to you, and you will know what I mean.

At Gaba Tepe there were steep little hills with quarries in between them, and most of the prisoners we took were caught in the quarries. We found lots of dead Turks under piles of rock.
